Lincoln County Masons

There are in Lincoln county 256 Masons who participate actively in the enterprises of their lodge. In addition thereto, there are a large number who for different reasons no longer participate actively in lodge meetings, but they are all men whose cards still are open to the secret words of recognition, and whose good right hands still respond to the fraternal clasp.

The lodges in Lincoln county are as follows: Lincoln No. 69, at Stanford, Hustonville, No. 184, at Hustonville, Wayneburg No. 328, at Wayneburg, Herrick Warner No. 551 at Procherville, McKimley No. 631, at McKimley, Crab Orchard No. 636, at Crab Orchard.

The lodge numbers indicating the order of their establishment, the first Masonic lodge in Kentucky having been established at Lexington and known as Lexington Lodge No. 1.

Since 1863 the presiding officers of the Masonic lodge in this county known as the Master of the Lodge and elected for the period of one year, have been as follows:

Some Lincoln History

In 1870 owing to troubles growing out of war prejudices still cherished by a few members of Lincoln Lodge No. 69 a number of its members withdrew and the Grand Lodge of Kentucky granted them a charter and they established Stanford Lodge No. 492, composed of the following officers: Ransom Carson, Master, John B. Messick, Senior Warden, John H. Reed, Junior Warden, James Paxton, Treasurer, N. R. Carson, Secretary, Greenberry Bright, Senior Deacon, John Y. Myers, Junior Deacon, E. B. Caldwell, Tyler, the remaining members being David N. Vandiver, Richard Cobb, R. B. Woods, John M. Hall, James A. Harris, A. G. Myers, John S. Bailey, Wm. S. Hocker, Thos. H. Shanks, Aug. L. Hall, George D. Hopper, George P. Bright, Edward R. Chennault, James B. Owens, P. M. Talbot, John F. Pettus, E. H. Bryant, Alfred Sunber, O. H. Crow, J. F. Peyton, J. M. Dunn, R. L. White, W. H. Miller, John M. Rochester, J. C. Hays, W. E. Gentry, John Fennigan, J. H. Hocker, A. A. McKinney and N. B. Withers.

These men held their meetings in the same hall, used by Lincoln Lodge No. 69, but of course on different nights. Fraternal intercourse was exchanged between the two lodges and on November 12, 1876, brotherly love triumphed the two lodges were consolidated; Stanford Lodge surrendered its charter, and with its membership and property holdings, became a part of Lincoln Lodge No. 69.

Masonry in Kentucky

There are in Kentucky 557 Masonic Lodges with an active membership of 25,983. For the support of their widows and Orphans Home at Louisville, they pay annually $16,000.00. The Home was founded in 1863 and was the first one in the world to be erected by any fraternal order, the plant and equipment cost $652,000.00, at this time 21 widows are given homes there and 297 children are there, being not only housed and fed, but educated and given Godly training. Since its establishment, 1587 children have been raised and educated therein. Following the lead of Kentucky, the Masons in nearly every State of the American Union and most of the European countries have planted similar homes.

The craft in Kentucky owns a beautiful blue grass farm in Shelby county and upon it a magnificent home for the destitute, superannuated members of the Fraternity, in support of which they spend annually $9,000.00.

It is now proposed that an infirmity suitable in size and modern equipment shall be established at Louisville for the treatment of the sick.

These magnificent charities, costing as they are, fall but lightly upon the pockets of the individual Masons, because every Mason in Kentucky contributes and every man of them the same amount. With them, it is not only equality of privilege but equality of burden.

When we look into the bright happy faces of the little fellows who are here from the Masonic Orphans Home, to join in the celebration to be held, we readily understand why Masons love that Orphan Home, and why, in full years or in lean, their needs are not neglected, but every effort made to equip them for places of usefulness and of honor in the world. It is a magnificent charity, and in it Kentucky leads the world, for here the idea originated.

A True Story

A number of years ago a Kentucky girl, traveling alone in a Southern State was, by reason of a car accident, compelled to leave her train and spend the night at a Way Goach, J. L. McMullen, John A. Sinclair, John N. Harris, Denip Phelps, Rebt. D. Munsey.

For Derick Warner Lodge No. 551: William H. Miller, 8 times; John T. McTizlaw, 7 times; David Scott, N. Rigby, Joel M. Holtzelaw, John Pettus, W. H. Cummins, Joseph H. White, 3 times; W. A. Carson, John Anderson, T. F. Gross, J. B. Cavurn, John B. Hutchins, 3 times; J. F. Hotzelaw, 3 times; J. M. Cress, T. Y. Shaw, M. F. Lawrence.

For McKimley Lodge No. 631: J. F. Hocker, twice; F. M. Ware, 7 times; James P. Crow, twice; N. R. Davidson, 3 times; E. J. Tanner, 9 times; E. M. Estes, Green Moore.

For Crab Orchard Lodge No. 636: Joseph D. Pettus, 8 times; John R. ing it, found a chamber maid who said to her, "A gentleman down stairs told me to bring this up to you" and handed to her the watch from the chain of which swung the Masonic emblem she had seen the stranger wear. There was no message and no word of assurance, but a lone Kentucky girl, in a distant State, as she put that little square and compass under her pillow, upon it fell asleep, with the sweet assurance that in the courteous stranger, she had both her father's and her brother's protection within the range of easy call. What it meant she instinctively knew, but all that it meant she may never know.

As a dignified Kentucky matron, she will watch the line of march tomorrow and as the line goes by, God will hear the silent prayer that woman will offer for the men who that Masonic emblem wear.

Checked By A Sign

"I saw a regiment of Sheridan's cavalry halted once by an old Virginian, who had no arms in his hands, and who didn't speak a word," said Junius A. Cosby, the giant sergeant of the Second District police force. "It was during the retreat from Petersburg, in April, 1865, the day before General Lee surrendered. I had been stationed here as a military telegraph operator, but just before Richmond was evacuated I was ordered to skedaddle and join the army. I was supposed to be a come to Gen. Lee's headquarters on the retreat, but I considered myself mighty lucky to get any place where I could keep a whole skin and out of reach of Sheridan's cavalry, that did not give us any peace for an hour at a time. It seems to me I was generally with the wagon train, and there the trouble was the hottest, for the blue coats would dash in, destroy a portion of our wagons, and then would have to get out to escape the fire our cavalry and infantry would pour into them."

"We were getting pretty well up the country, marching and fighting all the way, when one day about noon I was going it alone through a piece of woodland and came on a beautiful spring just at the edge of the field. I had not a mouthful to eat, except corn, sometimes paroled, and sometimes raw, for about four days, so I followed the path out into the open, thinking it would lead to a house. I wasn't mistaken, when I got to the edge of the woods I saw a comfortable-looking farmhouse not far off. I went up to the front gate and into the yard. There was an old gentleman on the porch, but before I could speak his wife ran out crying the Yankees were coming."

I told them I wasn't a Yankee, but a Confederate soldier, without a meal for four days and wanted something to eat. I was at once invited in, but before I had a chance to sit down hardly the old man came in off the porch, exclaiming the Yankees were coming up to the house. I saw through the front door what looked like a regiment of Yankees coming along the road and up the winding carriage road to the house.

"You are my son," said the old man; and I caught on in a minute. I wasn't anything more than a boy, so I thought I could work something of a baby racket. I ran out and hid under the woodpile my telegraph instrument which I carried slung over my shoulder, and then came back and sat down near the old man on the front porch. The old man started to give me some directions about how I was to conduct myself, when he saw the soldiers tearing down the fence along the road and turning their horses into the wheat field. The wheat was eight or ten inches high, and of course several hundred horses with good appetites would ruin the whole patch in a mighty little while.

"My God, I can't stand that!" the old fellow said and he jumped up and started down the steps. He trotted down to the gate and climbed up and sat on top of one of the posts. He didn't speak a word, but he did something worth more to him than all the speeches ever made. He didn't have anything to shoot with, but he had something else, that beat a cannon all hollow. I didn't know then what he did, but I know now that he made the distress signal of a Master Mason. You could have knocked me down with a feather when I saw those men begin climbing into their saddles and saw them ride out into the road and fix up the old man's fence.

"Then several officers came galloping up the drive and stopped at the gate. The old man clambered down from his perch on the post, and there was a most fraternal hand-shake all around."

"The old fellow invited all of them into the house, and I tell you I felt mighty squeamish when they came up onto the porch where I was. One of them said something about my being lucky enough not to have been born in time to have a share in all the trouble, and then they all went into the house and had a drink of old apple brandy. When they all came out the Colonel told his entertainer that a guard would be placed at the gate down at the road, and that his property should not be disturbed. They galloped away, and I went in and packed away under my belt as much corn bread and fat meat as I could hold. I then struck out and caught up with our army. The next day we surrendered at Appomattox."

"The really remarkable fact about all this, it seems to me now, is that when I took the Master's degree in Masonry, and learned what it was that the old man did to hold Sheridan's troops in check, he himself helped to confer the degree."—Richmond Dispatch.

The Masonic Lodge of Boston played a conspicuous part in the history of this country. On December 16, 1773, the members of the Boston Lodge, after the meeting was over, disguised themselves as Indians, went aboard the British ships and threw into the harbor 342 chests of tea. The Boston Tea Party was the first big Masonic celebration ever held in this country. Tomorrow there will be coffee on the picnic grounds for every body, but not a drop of tea.

Free Masonry is the oldest fraternal organization in the world, it is the only one of them all that never requests any man to join and yet it has a larger membership than all of the balance of them put together. Several times over.

In the year 1809 there were five Masonic Lodges in Kentucky under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, but from their remote situation from the parent Grand Lodge, they were induced on the 16th day of October of that year, to meet in the Masonic Hall at Lexington, Ky., and constitute the Grand Lodge of Kentucky when William Murray was elected the first Grand Master and Alexander Macgregor, Deputy Grand Master, Simon Adams, Senior Grand Warden and Cary L. Clark, Junior Grand Warden.

The five Lodges then surrendered their charters held under grant from the Grand Lodge of Virginia and received new ones in lieu thereof from the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, by which they were constituted as follows:

Lexington Lodge No. 1, Paris Lodge No. 2, Georgetown Lodge No. 3, Hiram Lodge (Frankfort) No. 4, Soconons Lodge (Shelbyville) No. 5.

The opposition which the Roman Catholic Church has interposed to Masonry during the last two hundred years, has not always existed. Pope Leo X, under whom the Cathedral of St. Peter at Rome, was erected, was an enthusiastic Free Mason and at one time Grand Master at Rome, as was afterwards Pope Clement VII, who established the famous Lodge at Pisa.

King Athelstan, the first appointed King of England, who translated the Holy Bible into the Saxon language, was the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of England, and he was succeeded in the year 926 by his brother Prince Edwin. In A. D. 139, Adrian, who was a Mason of great learning, built the Roman wall in England, the remains of which are yet to be seen.

An organization that has for 2,000 years, with unabated vigor, survived the downfall of empires and remained unchanged through the industrial, political and religious upheavals that have visited all nations in that length of time, is one which commands the respectful and thoughtful attention of the world.

Free Masonry, in active, continuing existence, antedates every civil government existing in the world today.

Its strength lies not in the power of an inexhaustible store of treasure, because it is not a rich man's organization. Its power is not in the fact that Emperors, Kings and Presidents have been and are of its membership, and actively participate in its rights and privileges, but its survival and world wide prevalence is due to the fact that it is Cardinal Faith is the Fatherhood of God, and the Brotherhood of man. Debaring the heels from its ranks, it accepts both the Jew and the Gentile of every creed and faith. It demands of its votaries a patriotic obedience to the laws of the lands in which they live. It encourages fidelity, morality, temperance, prudence, fortitude and justice, brotherly love, belief and truth. It husbands the widow fathers the orphan and protects the superannuated man who has been loyal in his allegiance to the craft. Within the tiled door of the Lodge room, there is no distinction by reason of worldly wealth, of worldly rank or honor, all meet upon a level, and equally share the burdens and the privilege. Its secret symbolism, rites and ceremonies are guarded by the strongest safe-guards; and while it solicits no man to join its ranks, as long as man loves his fellow man, and as long as man keeps a faithful breast and a friendly hand, Masonry will still prevail and attract to its ranks the rich and the poor alike.

Those intending to bring dinner are requested to deposit their baskets with the committee of ladies who will be on the grounds. This dinner will be served altogether under the supervision of this committee.

Beck-Thompson

BEAUTIFUL NUPTIALS AT HOME OF BRIDE ON WEDNESDAY MORNING.

Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the pretty country home of the bride's father, Mr. Wm. Beck, the ceremony was said which joined in the holy bonds of wedlock, Miss Cynthia Southard Beck and Mr. Harry E. Thompson, of Cedar Bluff, Iowa. The home was beautifully decorated with palms, field daisies and potted plants. From the door of the spacious hallway an aisle was formed of ribbons which led to one corner of the parlor where the marriage altar was arranged. To the strains of Mendelssohn's march, sweetly rendered by Miss Ellen Ballon, the little ribbon girls, Misses Belle and Edith Beck, pieces of the bride, entered and took their places to the right and left of the altar. Following them came Rev. B. Orland Beck, brother of the bride. Then came Miss Catherine Beck bearing the marriage ring in an American Beauty rose and took position next to the minister. Dr. and Mrs. Guy Ballon, then entered being followed by the contracting party who halted beneath the wedding bell of daisies, white cornucopians and ferns, and with a beautiful and impressive ring ceremony by Rev. Beck they were pronounced husband and wife.

Mrs. Thompson was pretty in baby Irish over white silk and bridal veil. She carried lilies of the valley and bride's roses. Always sweet and winsome she was on her wedding day the ideal of a sweet young woman and the gentleman who has won her heart and hand is to be congratulated and has every reason to be proud of his helpmeet. As the guests arrived at the home they were received in a most graceful and gracious manner by Miss Sarah and Master Clifton Beck.

On Tuesday evening the Beck home was the scene of a beautiful seven course dinner at which the immediate friends of the family were present. It was elegant in every appurtenant and the color scheme throughout was green and white. The favors were miniatures of a bride and groom.

Mr. Thompson is a mechanical engineer and manager of the immense W. J. Oliver Manufacturing Company, of Knoxville, Tenn., and stands high in the estimation of his company and all who know him. After the ceremony the bride, attired in a beautiful going-away gown of lavender, left with her husband over the L. & N. road for Lake Taxaway, N. C., and other Southern points of interest. After July 1st, they will be at home to their friends in Knoxville, where the best wishes of a host of friends will ever attend them.

IRELAND REPLIES TO PROF. COLVIN

FURTHER DISCUSSION OF THE SCHOOL TOURNAMENT AT SPRINGFIELD

In as much as we offered a prelude to the article from Prof. Colvin in Tuesday's issue, we deem it but fair to offer one to the article by Prof. Ireland. Since the Colvin publication we find that citizens from Lawrenceburg, one from Harrodsburg and one from Lancaster, the latter a minister of the gospel, have stated that the Stanford end of the controversy as published in our issue of last week, was correct, and vouching as they will for the correctness there of, it necessarily follows that they can not vouch for the truth and correctness of conflicting statements.

We purposely withheld the names of these disinterested parties for it is not desired to draw them into the discussion, but if it becomes necessary their names can and will be given and that too under a signed statement that Stanford is correct in every detail.

These people were eye witnesses to the Stanford-Springfield game and from the number of other witnesses who corroborate them, it would seem that Prof. Colvin has filed a minority report, which in a democratic country like this, amounts to naught. His defense, though exhibiting some adroitness, is pointless in places and reminds us of the retort of the body servant of Gen. Bragg to the lucky boy of Gen. Forrest during the Civil War. The discussion was over the relative merits of the two generals and Bragg's man after listening to his adversary's long eulogy, responded: ("Nigger, you talks and you talks, but you never locates, you argues and you argues, but you never ascertains no subject").

Following is Prof. Ireland's reply: Editor Interior Journal:

In answer to Prof. Colvin's article we have this to say. We wrote the part of the article in the Interior Journal beginning with the headline, "The Tournament." There is no disposition on the part of the representatives here to make any unjust charges. The facts in our column of issue of June 13th we are able to substantiate in regard to ringers, prizes and interference with the ball game.

We do not deny the fact that rules of Tournament were tacitly supposed to be the same as that governing tournaments held previous to this time, but I ask Prof. Colvin if they were enforced. I think he will not state on his word of honor that all of his entries in athletics and otherwise were regular, bona fide students of the Springfield High School. These facts, he has not stated in his article. Did Springfield win as many prizes at Harrodsburg in 1906 as they did at home? Stanford had the varied sections because there was no understanding prior to the Tournament, as to character of selections, but thought that there would be announcement made from platform or to the Judges in presence of heads of schools of departments and Stanford would then be ready to meet demand with some of the selections. We consented to Caldwell's entry, but under protest, for we could not prevent it. Stanford did not refuse to go into contests because of dissatisfaction, but did protest as a letter will attest which if preserved will speak for itself. Prof. Colvin was approached during the game and we stated to him that we considered withdrawing from the contest because of the ringers, and Springfield citizens attested to this fact. We did not withdraw however, because we had no opportunity to state to the people our reasons in full. Prof. Colvin did agree twice to play for the pennant on the third day, but after the first agreement, withdrew the pennant proposition in the Opera House that evening before the large crowd.

The Springfield Sun says, that a crowd of men and boys rushed onto the diamond, interfering with the game and that it was unfortunate, yet no attempt was made to have the runner return after the player scored. The score stood two to one in favor of Stanford in the first half of the tenth inning and one man out, so the interference did affect the score. Citizens of Lancaster, Lawrenceburg and Lebanon unsolicited have vouched for the facts in regard to the ball game. The charge that a wild throw was made to third was not made while at Springfield and must have been thought of later, for it could not have been thrown with a diamond full of people. There is a bare possibility of the throw to third being a wild one but who could tell with 200 or 300 in the line? We can say in return to Prof. Colvin that we deem him a good school man and a gentleman, and we do not think he will say on his honor that his was a bona fide team and that the High School Championship belongs to him deservedly. The Judges in many of the scholarship contests were Springfield and Washington county folks. Prof. Colvin cannot deny this fact—and we repeat as we did before that we charge no dishonesty, but merely a favorable consideration of home talent which every native does and should have. Do you not look with an eye single to your one school and town? Yes, and for this reason we asked for foreign judges just as we would want if the Tournament met here. Our people think Stanford schools are inferior to none and Springfield people think their schools superior and both are able to give reasons for the hope that is within them. Regretting the any unpleasantness should have arisen, yet firmly avowing the facts herein stated to be true, we are,

Respectfully,

IN DEEP SORROW STANFORD BOWS.

WHEN NEWS OF MRS. E. C. WALTON'S DEATH REACHED HER PEOPLE

The sad, sad news that Mrs. Belle Cook Walton, beloved wife of Mr. E. C. Walton, former editor of this paper had died in an Atlanta, Ga., hospital cast a gloom over every inhabitant of Stanford. While Mrs. Walton was known to have been in poor health for a number of years, yet her death was not expected and her friends and family were not at all prepared for the shock. Mrs. Walton was born in Hustonville, this county, 42 years ago, and was the fourth daughter of James M. Cook and Lucy Belle Bailey, the latter a sister of Judge James P. Bailey. Her family was one of the best-known in Lincoln county and for years had been a prominent one. In her younger days Mrs. Walton was a noted beauty, that characteristic being rather marked throughout her family. She grew to womanhood in the quaint old town of her birth and in December 1891, became the bride of Mr. Walton and to them were born three children, two of them surviving, Miss Lucy Lee and Master Claiborne Cook Walton, the former being here on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. G. B. Cooper, and being of course denied the sad privilege of seeing her mother before the end.

A little over 15 months ago, Mr. Walton sold the Interior Journal to its present owner and moved to Atlanta, but not finding the climate there what they had hoped for, went further south, locating at Orlando, Fla., when he is one of the owners of the Orlando Reporter-Star. Mrs. Walton began to lose strength several weeks since and with the hope of building up her impaired system, the devoted husband had gone with her to a hospital in Atlanta, reaching there with her on Monday night. The trip proved too much, however, and she passed away Wednesday. Besides the stricken husband and children, Mrs. Walton is survived by four sisters, Mrs. G. B. Cooper, of this place, Mrs. Robert J. Lyles and Miss Jesse Cook, of Nashville and Miss Sallie Cook, of Pittsburg, Pa., and two brothers James and Moses Cook, of Nashville.

Death, while always sad, is peculiarly so in this instance, leaving as Mrs. Walton does, not only a husband whose life was thoroughly interwoven with hers, but two children, one of them just entering into young womanhood, feeling the need of and looking to the fond mother for comfort and aid such as she alone could give, and a son who will forever miss the tender caress and christian guidance that comes with the free and unselfish love of a mother.

The sincere and unfeigned sympathy goes out from the hearts of all Stanford to the stricken ones and many are the prayers that the burden may not be greater than their souls can bear.

The remains reached here this morning at 4:40 and at 11 a. m., today the burial took place in Buffalo cemetery. A true wife and fond mother an unselfish Christian soul has been ushered in to the presence of its Maker and was not afraid. May no loved ones not weep, for with others of his children, she hath received the summons: Enter into eternal life. Peace! Be still!

A bare possibility of the throw to third being a wild one but who could tell with 200 or 300 in the line?

We can say in return to Prof. Colvin that we deem him a good school man and a gentleman, and we do not think he will say on his honor that his was a bona fide team and that the High School Championship belongs to him deservedly. The Judges in many of the scholarship contests were Springfield and Washington county folks. DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Circuit Judge,
HON. CHARLES A. HARDIN,
of Mercer County

For Railroad Commissioner,
WILLIAM F. KLAIR
of Fayette County

FOR REPRESENTATIVE
William H. Shanks announces his candidacy for Representative from Lincoln county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Some rich, rare and racy reading is promised the public before the Republican State Convention is held, and, possibly afterward. Mr. Franks makes some rather pointed inquiries of Judge O'Rear about the latter's alleged conference with one Dr. Amoss at Princeton, who has been charged with being implicated in night rider troubles. Mr. Franks says that Dr. Amoss is a democrat. Of course it is not our fight, and we are just wondering what did take place between the doctor and the judge. The judge, you know is suspected by some of having "a feeling way down in his heart" for the night rider, but then that is not our business either and again we are just left to wonder if the judge took the doctor to his bosom and promised him anything in the event that his nightmare about being the next governor should materialize. We will let Judge O'Rear do the wondering about the realization of that dream however, for after the election he will wake up to the full force and effect of this: "O, what a difference in the morning."

BACK SET FOR CHAMP CLARK.

The Champ Clark presidential boom has suffered a severe reversal as the result of an announcement by Senator Reed, of Missouri, who virtually reads out of the Democratic party in his home State any who fail to live up to the State convention pledge for Joseph W. Folk, as the Democratic presidential nominee.

The Reed statement which is of great length, recites that the Democrats of the State last year in convention assembled, endorsed Gov. Folk for the presidency. It also emphasizes the fact that Mr. Clark was the temporary presiding officer of the same convention. The probability that Champ Clark cannot go to the national convention with his solid State delegation behind him has thrown alarm among the followers of the Speaker.

The Missouri delegation would like to be for Mr. Clark, but since Senator Reed has made the State convention declaration for Mr. Folk an issue in the State there is a disposition to sidestep presidential politics in the party of Representatives from the "Show me" State.

In Washington the Reed interview occasioned great interest and it is generally recognized that it will not be helpful to the Clark presidential boom.

Commissioner's Sale

LINCOLN CIRCUIT COURT

L. C. Dunn's creditors, Plaintiffs, vs. L. C. Dunn and etc., Defendants. Notice of sale.

Pursuant to a judgment rendered in the above styled action at the May term, 1911, of the aforesaid court, undersigned Master Commissioner will on Monday, July 10, 1911, County Court Day, at 1:30 o'clock, P. M., in front of the court house in Stanford, Ky., sell at public outcry to the highest and best bidder, the following real estate, or so much thereof as will satisfy the judgments and claims hereinafter mentioned:

(1)—The undivided one-third interest in remainder, subject to the life estate of Mrs. Mary M. Dunn, in the tract of land near Hustonville, Lincoln county, Ky., beginning at a stone in the line of 30c. Coffey; thence S 85 W 14 poles. Coffey's corner; S 28 W 6 poles 10 links to a pin oak, corner to same; S 83 W 73 poles 7 links to a stone in the ditch of a road in the Rachel Carpenter line; thence her line 2 1/2 W 85 poles to a stone near a branch; thence up the branch N 5 W 101 poles to the beginning, containing 54 acres 3 rods and 27 poles of land.

(2)—If the sale of the interest in the above described tract fails to realize sufficient sum to satisfy the indebtedness of L. C. Dunn, and the costs hereof, I will then sell his remainder interest, subject to the life estate of Mrs. Jennie Dunn in the tract near Hustonville, Lincoln county, Ky., bounded on the North and North-west by the lands of M. T. Good; on the East by the land of J. T. Good; and on the West by the lands of L. C. Dunn and Eugenia Dunn, containing about 26 acres.

(3)—If the amount raised by the sale of the two tracts is insufficient for the purpose aforesaid mentioned, the Commissioner will then sell the interest of L. C. Dunn in the tract bounded on the North and Northeast by the land of M. T. Good; on the South by the land of J. T. Good; on the North and Northwest by the land of Mrs. Mary M. Dunn, containing about 35 acres, and is situated near Hustonville, in Lincoln county, Ky. The said L. C. Dunn also owns the remainder interest in this tract, subject to the life estate of Mrs. Jennie Dunn, in Lincoln county, Ky., beginning on Pine Lick at a stone Southwest side of Hustonville and Middleburg turnpike road; thence with Dunn's line S 42 W 25 poles to a stone in said line, S 53 E 15 poles to a stone on the side of said place; thence N 53 W 15 poles to the beginning, containing 2 acres 2 rods and 20 poles of land.

Terms:—The said property will be sold on a credit of six months, and the purchasers will be required to give bond for the purchase price, with approved personal security, payable to the Commissioner, bearing six per cent interest from date of sale, with lien retained on the land sold to secure the payment of said bond, which shall also have the force and effect of a judgment.

The purpose of this sale is to satisfy the judgments and claims against the said L. C. Dunn, amounting to approximately the sum of $1,725.00, which have been filed against him in this action; also the costs of this suit, amounting to about $18. This June 22, 1911.

Mrs. Kate Hays Dies.

FORMER LINCOLN COUNTY LADY
SUCCEUMS TO RHEUMATISM
IN KANSAS CITY.

News was received here Wednesday of the death of Mrs. Kate Hays, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. McCurdy in Kansas City, Mo. The message was to her only son, W. W. Hays and stated that her death was due to a complication of diseases. She was 71 years of age and lived in this county many years where she was beloved by many, who regret to hear of her demise. Her husband the late W. H. Hays owned a beautiful farm on the Hustonville pike, but soon after his death some 25 years ago, Mrs. Hays went to Kansas City and since then made her home with her daughter. She was a devout member of the Presbyterian church and was fully prepared when the final summons came. Three children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Hays, two of them surviving, Mrs. McCurdy, of Kansas City, and W. W. Hays, of this place.

The remains reached here yesterday morning from her late home and the burial occurred immediately in Buffalo cemetery, a large concourse of friends following the cortege to the last resting place.

HEED THE WARNING

Many Stanford People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are sick they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Sick kidneys expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. If you suffer from any of the above symptoms you can use no better remedy. Stanford people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

John H. Wren, E. Main St., Stanford, Ky., says: "I know from experience that Doan's Kidney Pills are all that is claimed for them. On and on for several years I had severe attacks of lame back. I often did work that required stooping and at such times the trouble became worse. There was also a too frequent desire to void the kidney secretions 'ho day and night. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me and have never failed to benefit me when I have taken them since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBum Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

One Way of Saving a Baby—Free to Try

The mother does not live who would not do all in her power to keep her child healthy, but often she does not know how. So when a doctor of standing points the way all can afford to listen.

It is an accepted fact that nine out of ten of the troubles of infants and children is intestinal. You notice it by the fact that the child is constipated, it beaches, is peevish and cries. Don't give a remedy that contains an opiate, because the child will get in the habit of needing it and don't become alarmed and run at once for a doctor.

Try a scientific laxative first. Give a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the remedy that is intended for the use of children. It is mild, gentle and non-gripping. The remedy is absolutely pure and is guaranteed in every particular.
Mrs. Toomey of Emmingville, Pa., and

Mrs. Fred Croma of Alanson, Mich., never give their children anything else.
These are only a few among thousands of women.

You can buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of any nearby druggist, for they have all sold it for a generation, but if you want to test it on your child first send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will cheerfully send you a free sample bottle.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr.

Backache

Is only one of many symptoms which some women endure through weakness or displacement of the womanly organs. Mrs. Lizzie White of Memphis, Tenn., wrote Dr. R. V. Pierce, as follows:

"At times I was hardly able to be on my feet.
I believe I had every pain and ache a woman could have. Had a very bad case. Internal organs were very much diseased and my back was very weak. I suffered a great deal with nerve headaches, in fact, I suffered all over.
This was my condition when I wrote to you for advice. After taking your 'Favorite Prescription' for about three months can say that my health was never better."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism. It allays inflammation, leads ulceration and soothes pain. Tones and builds up the nerves.
Do not permit a dishonest dealer to substitute for this medicine which has a record of 40 years of cures. "No, thank you, I want what I ask for."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets induce solid natural bowel movement once a day.

Hanna's Green Seal

"THE MADE-TO-WEAR PAINT"

Has stood the test of time and has been improved in quality with the passing years. Many brands of paint are offered for sale and quite often careful scrutiny is not given the subject with reference to the quality of the paint to be used.

EXPERIENCE IS A GOOD TEACHER. TEST THE QUALITY.

It is a good idea to learn the composition of the paint you intend to use. There is a difference.

The printed formula appears on every package of Hanna's Green Seal Paint.

This is an evidence of good faith and attests the confidence the makers have in their product.
